Fourth Revised Edition—1942

by JACOB N. BLANCK

"American First Editions," first issued in 1929 to become the daily guide of collectors, booksellers and students of literary history, has now been given most thorough and painstaking revision—a monument to American bibliography.

Nearly 200 authors from Philip Freneau to John Steinbeck are included and every one of the 10,000 titles has been rechecked in the revision, hundreds of new items added, disputed claims studied, missing details supplied. The books of each author are listed in chronological sequence, followed by pamphlet and ephemeral material, biographies and bibliographies. Each pertinent point for identifying first editions which research has developed is recorded.

Early American SHEET MUSIC

Its Lure and Its Lore

1768-1889

by

HARRY DICHTER and ELLIOTT SHAPIRO

This volume is the most complete and detailed study that has yet been made of the fascinating field of sheet music, an area which has growing interest for collectors, print connoisseurs, musicians, and all students of American social and political history. It is common knowledge to collectors that thousands of fine copies of early music must still await discovery in obscure attics, basements and bookstores.

IMPORTANT PIECES OF EARLY MUSIC—Over 600 described with complete bibliographical details and classified by subject interest. Also descriptions of famous songs and songs of literary interest. Famous American musical firsts. Broad-sides and periodicals with songs not in sheet music form.

SHEET MUSIC PUBLISHERS—A directory with notes outlining the history and successive addresses of famous imprints by which most undated music may be dated.

LITHOGRAPHERS AND ARTISTS—A list of those working on Sheet Music before 1870 arranged by cities. Compiled by Edith A. Wright and Josephine A. McDevitt.

32 PLATES reproducing rare early covers.

All titles included have been checked and are known to have survived in present day collections. Nearly a thousand pieces of the most sought for and significant items of more than a century of music publishing have been described.

PREFACE

THIS issue of AMERICAN BOOK PRICES CURRENT—the forty-eighth of the series—is significant in the history of book prices as the volume covers the period of our entry into the war. In spite of the black period which has descended upon us, the auction season showed remarkable stability, although in a few fields the prices were erratic.

Among the noted properties dispersed were such distinguished libraries as the A. Edward Newton Collection (Part III); the Western Americana of Guthrie Y. Barber; The Albert May Todd Library of Classics, Incunabula, Ornithological Books, etc.; the famous American Historical Collection of Col. Louis J. Kolb; the Library of William H. Woodin; The Library of James D. Smyth, containing Ornithological Books, Classics, etc.; and the noted Angling Library formed by Dean Sage.

The Newton collection was high-lighted, of course, by the Ouvry-Proby-Carysfort copy of the First Folio Edition of Shakespeare's Works. Opinion is divided on its price ($22,000). Some feel the figure was fair, others feel that it was disappointing. In the same sale, Walton's "Complete Angler," first edition, "contention" issue, realized $2,650—a figure which certainly cannot be called low. Two copies of the "contentment" issue in the Dean Sage sale realized $975 and $950. Another exceptional volume in the Newton sale was "A New Interlude Called Thersytes . . ." which brought $2,500. The sale catalog attributes this piece to its publisher, John Tysdale. We have entered it under "Interlude" and under "Udall, Nicholas," to whom the work is sometimes ascribed.

The Albert May Todd and the Smyth sales showed a great rise in the prices of Ornithological books. Indeed, the elephant folio edition of Audubon's "Birds of North America,"—a magnificent copy—brought $15,600 in the Smyth sale. It is the highest price realized for the work at public auction.

The notable collection of Col. Louis J. Kolb was rich in fine autograph material. In this sale, held at Morley's in Philadelphia, Abraham Lincoln's famous "Hooker" letter brought $15,000—roughly a third more than the Colonel had to pay for it.

Eighty-four sales have been recorded, listing upwards of 10,000 items, and these sales represent the activities of the eight leading galleries in the United States. Several newcomers in the auction field have greatly increased the volume of sales, especially in the middle brackets. This volume is made on the pattern of its predecessor, and the uninitiated are asked to consult the NOTES of the 1941 volume for helpful hints on its use.

The editor's task was much lightened by the able assistance of Mr. Colton Storm, formerly of New York City, who is now Curator of Maps at the Clements Library, Ann Arbor, Michigan.
